Dear Parents/Carers

World Book Day – Thursday 5th March 2026

As mentioned before the half-term break, we are celebrating World Book Day on Thursday 5th March (next week) by embracing the story of “The day the crayons quit” by Oliver Jeffers.

Each class has been invited to come to school, on that day, dressed in something of their assigned colour. This could be a full outfit, one item, or even accessories. There is no need to buy a costume – everyday clothes are perfect. Any outfit is welcome as long as the colour is clear, for example: a coloured jumper, dress, football kit, superhero costume, animal costume, a pair of socks, a scarf or even just accessories. Please just make sure the children have sensible footwear and a coat.

Our class colours are:

- Nursery – Yellow
- Snow Bears – Blue
- Very Hungry Caterpillar – Red
- Gruffalo – Green
- Percy the Park Keeper – Orange
- Stardust – Purple
- Paddington Bear – Brown
- Night Pirates – Grey

Throughout the day, children will enjoy a range of creative activities focussed on colours, feelings, listening to others and expressing ideas, inspired by the story. Thank you for your continued support.

School website

Due to circumstances beyond our control, we are having to change our website provider. We have tried to match the layout and look of the new site as closely as we can to our current format, but the new site may look a little different. The planned launch date for the new site to go live is Monday 16th March. During the next two weeks, whilst the migration happens, the current site will be available to you to view but we will be unable to make any changes to it.

Dates for your diary

Parents day – Monday 16th March. School will be closed for individual appointments.
Red nose day - Friday 20th March. Theme to be confirmed.

As always, please let us know if you have any questions or need any further support.

Yours sincerely
